

Walking Debate Statements

Animals can have dreams.

Broccoli is better than chocolate.

Dinosaurs are scarier than lions.

People should have four legs.

Everything in the world should be pink.

Animals should talk with human words.

People should have wings.

Sun is better than rain.

Tigers should live in zoos.

We should always do what we are told to do.

We should share everything.

We learn more from TV than at school.

Monsters are unkind.

All books are good.

All flowers are beautiful.

The next one is a story so listen carefully.... → Maria's birthday.

Maria's Birthday Scenario

It is Maria's birthday. She's one of your classmates and the class is getting together to buy her a present. Everyone agrees immediately: they are going to buy her that board game she likes and has played so many times.

Conor takes on the job of buying it because there is a shop next door to his house. They have worked out how much each person needs to pay and agree to bring the money the next day.

The next day Orla says that she is sorry, but her parents told her that they don't have enough money. Helen says that the amount they have to give is very small and it is not possible that Orla cannot pay it.

The classmates all have a debate. One group is willing to give a little extra money, while another group says it isn't fair and that everyone should contribute the same amount. What do you think?

If you think everyone should bring in a little extra money, move to the right. If you think everyone should contribute the same amount, move to the left.